

What is a Denial of Rights?

Forced medication request

Rights to not be medicated can only be denied to protect the consumer's health and safety or the health and safety of others, or both. NRS 433.534

Hospital may have its own internal peer review process

If the hospital does not have its own internal process, then a court hearing shall be held

If a court hearing is held, the treating psychiatrist from the hospital should provide testimony as to the health and safety issues
